

Welcome to GTS Human Algorithm Training

communication skills

Human Algorithm Training is a soft-skills program that takes a step-by-step, scientific approach to improving communication skills. Scrap the notion that people are either good communicators or they're not; our training introduces a set of processes that can be learned and practiced by everyone to prepare them for virtually any situation they might encounter.

